The Complete Short Stories of E. F. Benson - 70+ Titles in One Edition Dec 21 2021 This carefully edited collection has been designed and formatted to the highest digital standards and adjusted for readability on all devices. Edward Frederic Benson (1867-1940) was an English novelist, biographer, memoirist, archaeologist and short story writer. He achieved the big success with his first novel, the fashionably controversial Dodo, and also with its sequels, but the greatest success came relatively late in his career with The Mapp and Lucia series. Benson was also known as a writer of atmospheric, oblique, and at times humorous or satirical ghost stories. The Overcoat and Other Short Stories Sep 29 2022 Gogol's stories are admired for their skillful mingling of fantasy and reality, quiet good humor and use of mundane details - as Gogol put it - "to extract the extraordinary from the ordinary." Imaginative and timeless, they remain as fresh and significant today as they were to readers generations ago. This rich selection of four short stories by the great 19th-century Russian author of Dead Souls includes "The Nose," a savage satire of incompetent bureaucrats and the snobbery and complacency of the Russian upper classes; "Old-Fashioned Farmers," a sketch depicting an elderly couple who live a happy but simple life in rustic seclusion; "The Tale of How Ivan Ivanovich Quarrelled with Ivan Nikiforovich," and of Gogol's most famous comic stories; and "The Overcoat," an exceptionally moving tale - considered a masterpiece of the form - about a poor and much-ridiculed St. Petersburg official. Includes a selection from the Common Core State Standards Initiative: "The Nose."

The Last Message: And Other Short Fiction Dec 29 2019 The Last Message and other Short Fiction is a collection of forty-five thought-provoking and entertaining short stories (called flash fiction), that range from science fiction and fantasy, to every day life. These stories can be read fairly quickly, thus making the book ideal for reading throughout the day.

Skin and Other Stories Mar 12 2021 How would you get rid of a murder weapon without causing suspicion? Where would you hide a diamond where no one else would think of looking? What if you found out that the tattoo on your back was worth over a million dollars? You will discover that just about anything is possible in a Roald Dahl story, and here are eleven of his very best.

The Hidden Story of Every Person Oct 31 2022 A collection of short stories that bend the mind, pull the heartstrings, and explore the eternal questions of existence. Originally published as videos seen by millions on Robert Pantano's popular YouTube channel Pursuit of Wonder, The Hidden Story of Every Person contains thirty-one of Pantano's short fiction stories, including The Nova Effect, The Last Thought You'll Ever Have, and The Beginning & End of Humanity. The collection offers wide-ranging reimaginings of reality, both familiar and distant, comfortable and unsettling, each story probing into different science and philosophically driven themes, including the essence of self, the nature of reality, the role of chance in life, the implications of technology, humanity's place in the cosmos, the experience of anxiety, regret, compassion, and much more. The stories contained have been re-edited and improved since their original publications in video form but broadly remain consistent.

Monkey Tales and Other Short Stories Apr 24 2022 Monkey Tales and other Short Stories is a collection of 14 short stories based on the author's life growing up in East Africa, his global travels, experiences working in Canada and abroad, and more. Hirji deftly blurs the boundaries between memoir and fiction, creating vivid characters such as Aziz, who stars prominently in many stories, along with nefarious biker and monkey gangs, a gruesome toilet cleaner, a beautiful haunted spirit, endearing old women, sexy girlfriends, nudes and others who leap off the pages in their largesse. Stories come to life with Hirji's vivid prose: you can practically smell the puri bubbling in oil and feel the victim's terror when he takes on an unlikely intruder in a riotous showdown. Although Monkey Tales teases out humour and suspense in its stories, there's plenty of poignancy in the collection, too. Whether facing financial hardship or racial bias, the characters demonstrate resilience and good nature as they struggle for survival between both humankind and the animal kingdom. This book is registered with the US Copyright Office

The Seagull Pirates and Other Short Stories Dec 09 2020 A Collection of short stories, poems, and tales for children; this book includes works from Jansen Lyons such as The Seagull Pirates, Ted the Bear, Baby Otter, and Oh Hero's Helm. The stories are easy to read or listen to, and with over a hundred pages and just over a dozen pieces of literature, this collection will bring hours of reading, story telling, and fun for the whole family.

Dusk and Other Stories Sep 25 2019 First published nearly a quarter-century ago and one of the very few short-story collections to win the PEN/Faulkner Award, this is American fiction at its most vital—each narrative a masterpiece of sustained power and seemingly effortless literary grace. Two New York attorneys newly flush with wealth embark on a dissolute tour of Italy; an ambitious young screenwriter unexpectedly discovers the true meaning of art and glory; a rider, far off in the fields, is involved in a horrific accident—night is falling, and she must face her destiny alone. These stories confirm James Salter as one of the finest writers of our time.

The Gift of the Magi and Other Short Stories Jul 28 2022 Presents sixteen short fiction stories by nineteenth-century American author O. Henry, including the title work about the Christmas sacrifices of a young married couple.

The Golden Key and Other Short Stories Feb 20 2022 With just the right flourish of his pen, author James Street takes his readers for a walk in the footsteps of the men and women who populated the small towns and piney woods of his beloved home state, Mississippi. Street turns his singular experiences into moving and thought provoking universal truths – seeing beyond tarnished exteriors to the treasures within, the enduring legacy of selflessness, the making of champions, and the capacity of all, no matter what age, no matter how humble, to find and lose love. Each story is introduced by a note from the author – gems of thought and background information that further enhance the timeless contents of this collection. These short stories were originally published in such magazines as Saturday Evening Post, Good Housekeeping, and The American Magazine. This collection includes the original short stories, The Biscuit Eater and Weep No More My Lady which were later expanded into two of Mr. Street's most famous and well-loved books. Included: • The Golden Key • In Full Glory Reflected • The Old Gordon Place • Weep No More, My Lady • Please Come Home, My Lady • Buck and Fo' Bits • The Crusaders • Pud'n and Tayme • They Know How • The Road To Gettysburg • All Out With Sherman • Set the Wild Echoes Flying • The Biscuit Eater • The House

Mona and Other Tales Aug 24 2019 Includes the stories of a young boy who recognizes evil for the first time, a writer struggling to balance the demands of creativity and fame, and common people coping with the changes of exile and revolution.

The Island of Naked Women Aug 17 2021 The Island of Naked Women is a collection weird and often ridiculous short stories by world renowned author Jonathan Altvater. Inside you will find a story about a rapping cockroach man that warns people about the end of the world. There is a story about scientists doing experiments in the 90s trying to unlock the secrets of saving pornographic images on floppy disks. I don't want to give away the ending, but you won't believe what happens in the story about Donald Trump eating macaroni and cheese. The stories are brisk and easy to read as long as you have an open mind that enjoys seeing the world turned on it's head and an affinity towards the absurd.

A Haunted House And Other Short Stories Jul 24 2019 This book is a result of an effort made by us towards making a contribution to the preservation and repair of original classic literature. In an attempt to preserve, improve and recreate the original content, we have worked towards: 1. Type-setting & Reformatting: The complete work has been re-designed via professional layout, formatting and type-setting tools to re-create the same edition with rich typography, graphics, high quality images, and table elements, giving our readers the feel of holding a 'fresh and newly' reprinted and/or revised edition, as opposed to other scanned & printed (Optical Character Recognition – OCR) reproductions. 2. Correction of imperfections: As the work was re-created from the scratch, therefore, it was vetted to rectify certain conventional norms with regard to typographical mistakes, hyphenations, punctuations, blurred images, missing content/pages, and/or other related subject matters, upon our consideration. Every attempt was made to rectify the imperfections related to omitted constructs in the original edition via other references. However, a few of such imperfections which could not be rectified due to intentional\unintentional omission of content in the original edition, were inherited and preserved from the original work to maintain the authenticity and construct, relevant to the work. We believe that this work holds historical, cultural and/or intellectual importance in the literary works community, therefore despite the oddities, we accounted the work for print as a part of our continuing effort towards preservation of literary work and our contribution towards the development of the society as a whole, driven by our beliefs. We are grateful to our readers for putting their faith in us and accepting our imperfections with regard to preservation of the historical content. HAPPY READING!

Nikolai Gogol, Short Stories Collection Oct 26 2019 Nikolai Vasilievich Gogol (1809 - 1852) was a Ukrainian-born Russian dramatist, novelist and short story writer. Considered by his contemporaries one of the preeminent figures of the natural school of Russian literary realism, later critics have found in Gogol's work a fundamentally romantic sensibility, with strains of Surrealism and the grotesque. His early works, such as Evenings on a Farm Near Dikanka, were influenced by his Ukrainian upbringing, Ukrainian culture and folklore. His later writing satirised political corruption in the Russian Empire (The Government Inspector, Dead Souls), leading to his eventual exile. The novel Taras Bulba (1835) and the play Marriage (1842), along with the short stories "Diary of a Madman," "The Tale of How Ivan Ivanovich Quarreled with Ivan Nikiforovich," "The Portrait" and "The Carriage," round out the tally of his best-known works. In this book: The Mantle and Other Stories Translator: Claud Field The Inspector-General Translator: Thomas Seltzer Dead Souls Translator: D. J. Hogarth Taras Bulba and Other Tales

The First Prince May 14 2021 So what is this about, you must be wondering? What kind of book have you stumbled across, and what genre should it be pigeonholed into? Fantasy is probably what most people would say. Fantasy that has been heavily influenced by Mythology. Of course, that is how fantasy started, before the fantasy genre was based on the fantasy genre. So we have stories about a world called Kel, and an author is telling you it is a mythology infused fantasy world- where does that take us? The long standing joke is that if The Princess Bride and Conan the Barbarian hooked up in Narnia and had a baby- that would be Kel. Kel is a fiction series inspired by a variety of mythologies, literature, and to a lesser extent films and popular culture. In this collection of short stories, readers will meet a handful of key characters that are featured in the first novel, 'A Prince of the North.' This collection also serves to give the reader an idea of the different tones they will find from one story to another. 'The First Prince' and 'Killing them Softly' are pretty much straight up adventure stories. If you crave some swashbuckling adventure mixed with some magic and some weirdness, those stories should satisfy. 'A Little Cash, A Pair of Dice, and a Bottle or Two of Ambrosia' introduces The Goblin Market, a strange place where characters from any number of worlds might cross over into Kel. In this case, a few characters meet for the first time and see what kind of deal they can strike. 'Assassin!' is intended as a 'creepy story for kids'. I want to describe it as a horror story, but I think that can give the wrong idea. It is a bit creepy, it is definitely dark. I would suggest reading it before you try reading it to a child, or letting a child read it themselves. If you have a child that is afraid of the dark, it is probably not the story for them. If you have a child who, like I was, wanted to know what was in the dark, they might enjoy it. Finally, 'The Steward of House Alléchant' is a little more on the intrigue side, introducing a few characters that feature prominently in the first novel, and in some following stories.

Sylvan Feb 08 2021 The author invites you into a world of imagination; where fairies protect, soothe, romance and engage with humans; where justice or jealousy is meted out by tooth and claw or phantom. Here is a place where a split personality is not the only answer to a mystery, ghosts hover in limbo and reincarnation allows communication from beyond the pale. Enjoy tales of enchantment that might bring a tear to your eye or a smile to your lips. One tale takes the reader back to another century while another is as current and trendy as a popular tourist attraction in San Francisco, California. This collection is sure to entice the reader to enjoy story after story and, perhaps, to read them again and again.

The White People and Other Weird Stories May 02 2020 Classic tales of the fantastic, creepy and weird, with a foreword from the award-winning director of The Shape of Water Guillermo Del Toro Machen's weird tales of the creepy and fantastic finally come to Penguin Classics. With an introduction from S.T. Joshi, editor of American Supernatural Tales, The White People and Other Weird Stories is the perfect introduction to the father of weird fiction. The title story "The White People" is an exercise in the bizarre leaving the reader disoriented and on edge. From the first page, Machen turns even fundamental truths upside-down, as his character Ambrose explains, "there have been those who have sounded the very depths of sin, who all their lives have never done an 'ill deed'" setting the stage for a tale entirely without logic. For more than seventy years, Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English-speaking world. With more than 1,700 titles, Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines. Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors, as well as up-to-date translations by award-winning translators.
